This category is open to qualified hairdressers across every business setting - salon-employed, salon owners, chair-renters, suite operators, freelance, and independent operators alike.

Submission into Australian Hairdresser of the Year must include a collection of six (6) photographs showcasing six (6) different looks. Photographic collections should look to present conceptual consistency, strong technical execution, and versatility with regards to hairdressing skills and techniques. Both a written submission and creative component is required.

The winner of AHFA Australian Hairdresser of the Year will have an itinerary of MDivision commitments that they must be available for. Some of these commitments could include mentoring the Australian F.A.M.E team and shooting an editorial collection with The Journal Magazine. This category will now be judged at the AHFA Live Gallery Judging Day in Sydney, by an Australian panel of the country's most respected hairdressers, each highly qualified with a strong understanding of the local creative market. Entrants send in printed and mounted collections, which are placed in a gallery for the panel to view in person, side by side, in real time. Judges score independently on this dedicated judging day, and all scores are entered through Award Force, a globally recognised, third-party awards software platform used by competitions across many industries internationally. No-one can override a judge's score once it has been entered in the platform, and the entrants in the live gallery photographic collection judging remain anonymous during the judging process.
